

SUBJECT: Virtual Reality study participants needed, $50 Amazon Gift Card drawing!

BODY:

Participants needed to study the effects of virtual reality on competency-based learning.

Your participation will require a 30-minute session of immersion in a virtual reality simulation with an Oculus Rift DK2 in a library study room to be determined. You will get to experience a convincing virtual reality simulation, which will aim to teach you how to tie a men's necktie through game mechanics. At the end of the simulation a real tie will be provided and a test will be performed to see if you retained the skill taught in virtual reality.

We are looking for any college student between the ages of 18-35 whom:

- Does not already know how to tie a men's necktie
- Does not get motion sick easily
- Are comfortable with wearing a headset for 30 minutes

All participants will be entered into a raffle to win a $50 Amazon Gift Card.

Contact Brian Clee at cleebp@appstate.edu with "VR Study" in the subject line for more information!